Compagnie Financière Tradition S.A. appoints new global CIO, Yann L'Huillier

Compagnie Financière Tradition S.A. today announces the appointment of Yann L'Huillier as Group Chief Information Officer. Mr L'Huillier will commence his appointment on March 29, 2010.

Prior to joining Compagnie Financière Tradition, Yann L'Huillier was CIO for Turquoise Ltd where he joined from inception in 2007. From 2003 to 2007 he held various positions at the Boston Stock Exchange. In particular, as Senior VP and CIO, he led trading system R&D and created various alternative trading systems. He had previously worked at The Toronto Stock Exchange where he managed the overhaul of the trading technology for the equity market.

Yann L'Huillier frequently speaks in technology conferences and is a recognised expert in stock exchange technology and equity market structure both in North America and in Europe.

We are also pleased to announce that Larry Rosenshein is joining the Group Executive Committee. Mr Rosenshein, recently appointed Chairman of TFS Energy in Stamford (CT), co-manages all of the operations of TFS in North America
