Press Release

Tradition and Tradition-ICAP voted top broker in thirteen categories in Risk's Annual Interdealer Broker Rankings

LONDON, 16 September 2011 – Tradition, one of the world's leading interdealer brokers, has been voted the number one broker in seven interest rate, currency, and equity categories in Risk's Annual Interdealer Rankings 2011. The company's options market joint venture with ICAP, called Tradition-ICAP, was also awarded first place in six currency products categories.

Mike Leibowitz, Tradition's CEO for EMEA, commented:

"We are really pleased with this achievement. It is a reflection of our commitment to deliver a professional service to our clients and we are delighted that our hard work and expertise have been recognised. The awards are a testament to the breadth and depth of our high-quality, flexible brokerage services in a comprehensive range of financial markets."

Tradition was voted best broker in four interest rate categories: it took first place in short-term interest rates (yen); interest rate swaps (2-10 years, yen); interest rate swaps (10+ years, yen); and repurchase agreements (yen). In the currency category, the firm took first place in swaps (euro/yen). In addition, Tradition came first in two equity categories: equity index options (SMI) and equity index options (CAC 40).

Tradition-ICAP was awarded best broker in six currency categories: options (US dollar/euro); options (US dollar/sterling); options (US dollar/swiss franc); exotics (US dollar/euro); exotics (euro/yen); and exotics (euro/sterling).

The rankings polled more than 1,000 market professionals that broker products in the interest rate, currency, credit and equity markets. They reflect clients' top choices for the year among global dealers and brokers in the over-the-counter derivatives markets.
